

Now humanity is capable to eradicate all types of psychological/mental disorders within few seconds

Humanity receives COGNISHEILD : A simple practical technique which removes all possible mental/psychological disorders within few seconds and drastically enhances brain function.

from the world's leading neuro-psychologist Dr. Nitnem Singh Sodhi – a very simple practical technique which when practiced, results in instant spontaneous elimination/treatment of all possible psychological/mental problems & disorders, and it also drastically enhances cognition & mental faculties of the human brain. It provides absolute conscious control of the mind.

With the introduction of COGNISHEILD, it is now the time when humanity literally eradicates all psychological/mental problems & disorders and we move a step towards our further psychological evolution.

Dr. Nitnem has introduced COGNISHIELD through his latest research paper which is published in IJRASET, a reputed international scientific journal that follows an industry-standard double-blind peer-review process and it is approved by the U.G.C. of India, and it is having impact factor of 7.4+

Dr. Nitnem Singh Sodhi is the developer of the world's first unified & functional model framework of mind & brain (psychology & neuroscience), named the "Unimind Metamodel" and the "Unibrain Theory", which have been accepted by the international scientific community. This is the first model framework in the history of humanity that explains the complete unified functioning & mechanism of mind & brain. He has also developed his own new internationally accepted system of treatment therapy for all types of psychological/mental disorders, named the "Unimind Therapy".

The complete research paper (COGNISHEILD) is available online for free (open-access). It can be searched for on Google or it can be accessed via this Link:
