The audiobook is anticipated to have an inspiring and profound effect on its target audience.

In this must-listen book, author Meher Mirchandani shares invaluable insights, tools, and techniques to help you know, nurture, appreciate and fall in love with yourself.

We have all grown up to believe love is a process that completes us when we love another, and they love us back as per our expectations. This is purely to fulfill our inadequacies and the subconscious programs we hold.

If there is something missing in your life, it is you. It is the connection with yourself. This book uncovers that there is nothing missing in life and that you are enough and limitless! It sheds light on the fact that the relationship we have with ourselves is what determines the quality of every other relationship in our life. It helps you understand that you are complete.

Meher's five-phase process will lead you to prioritize yourself, love yourself, and ultimately come alive. Being alive is being in love with yourself for who you are.
