

‘Reggae Inna Summertime’ by Big Mountain Lays Out the Perfect Pitch for a Summer Carnival

Popular Reggae band Big Mountain gets groovy with their new melodious summer anthem ‘Reggae Inna Summertime’ a brilliant addition to the summer playlist.

Ventura, Jul 12, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Emerging with a clear vision to treat the audience with their refreshing and new Reggae sound, Big Mountain is getting immense applaud from the audience for their brilliant musicianship. The American reggae band brings a much-commercialized version of Jamaican music to the American mainstream that easily distinguishes their sound from the others. A bunch of talented musicians, the band is comprised of guitarist/ vocalist Quino, rhythm guitarist Jerome Cruz, drummers Gregory Blakney and Lance Rhodes, keyboard players Billy Stoll, Michael Hyde, and Manfred Reinke, and bassist Lynn Copeland.

On their latest single 'Reggae Inna Summertime', the band has given out a joyous performance as they sing cheerfully to enthrall the listener. The beautiful line of words coupled with the upbeat, warm, and tuneful melodies create a happy ambiance throughout. Bringing in the raw essence of summer with their brand new track, the band has ensured their success on the commercial pop charts. The production is brilliant and the catchy upstream of harmonies following each verse is addictive. It's easy for the listener to groove to the song's endless hook.

Originally formed in San Diego as the Rainbow Warriors, the band changed its name twice before they finally became popular as the Big Mountain. So far, the group has headlined two successive Reggae Sunsplash festivals in Jamaica, during their world tours and is only leading to enjoy a lasting stay in the industry. The track 'Reggae Inna Summertime' makes for a perfect summer anthem and brings out the band's exclusivity to the forefront at every step of the delightful musical journey.
