Professionally known as Nadith De Silva, is a Sri Lankan Artist, Music Producer

Sri Lanka, Colombo, Jul 2, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Nadith De Silva was born in 1990 in Galle from a middle-class family. Since he was a child he had to choose his path between music and cricket (a national sport in which he has always had great success).

Finally, with the help of his family, he chose music, and soon he has been able to figure out how to get on in this field. In 2011, with help of Devinda Fernando and his wife Ayesha, owners of the production house AnnoyBoy Pictures, he released his first music video "Hondai Machan" which had great success within the teens of the time. After a time of like three months, he has been able to release his second music video "Apith Ekka Yan" with the same house.

After his release "Api hamuwela" (lyrics video Jan. 2020), he had to take a break from the music industry because of family matters. In August 2019 the artist moved to Italy and few months later he renewed his friendship with Dileepa Liyanage, the music producer of his first single, who now lives in Qatar, and restarted the journey with the song "Hithuwakkara Bambarun".

They have been invited for radio interviews and they both asserted that are many songs ready to be published that are supposed to be released within this year, but still no one has a clue of what this partnership is baking. The audience only has to stay tuned to keep it up!

Nadith De Silva a musical artist (singer, songwriter) since 2011, released his first music video "Hondai Machan" and his second music video "Apith Ekka Yan" with the Annoyboy Production House. He did the opening song for "Shree FM" a Main Stream Media channel in Sri Lanka in 2013 and made a duet with Mr. Chitral Somapala in 2021 called "Giniyam wu" which brought him fame. From the beginning, everyone understood that the boy had a future in the music industry. In the following years, other songs and music videos were released like "Paana Sina" - mv 2012, "Shanika" audio 2012. Soon he left AnnoyBoy Pictures to find his own path that's the way, after few years, he met Ravindra Srinath actual music producer of V4S Music Production from which cooperation four singles of completely different genre raised "Dedunna Se" audio 2013, "Sundara Mage Heene" mv 2013, "Mage Suranganaviye" audio 2014 restyled for a video in 2020 and later "Sudu Loonu" (lyrics video 2018).

They made lots of songs together, there is also a Christmas song in cooperation with various Sri Lankan Artists. A few months later the singer met Chamath Sangeeth, a music producer who is well known for creating many hits in Sri Lanka for as many well-known artists. From this friendship, a great hit has been released: "Altoth Ne" mv 2016.

In 2019, he started a friendship and partnership with Shenal Maddumage (music producer and singer of the Trio Funky Dirt). It is in this same period that they produced and published "Api hamuwela" (lyrics video Jan. 2020). This song increased the audience in very few days and was declared a great success not only because of the sudden cooperation but also because of the complete changes in genre.

In August 2019 the artist moved to Italy and collaborated with Dileepa Liyanage in Qatar. They made their first step in this brand-new journey with the song "Hithuwakkara Bambarun" (mv October 2020) and "Ahamben Wage" (music video November 2020).
