Why not on Derivative exchanges?

They do not support big investors as their model caps the sale through a strategic price hike. Instead, their primary focus lies on curbing the ongoing model of volatile prices under exchange trade and do away with such investors who invest huge amounts and manipulate the price in the market. We will list major Derivative (Uniswap...) and Spot (Binance, Huobi ...,) exchanges once we close the pre-sale.

To do this, they follow the process of burning 80% tokens and managing the remaining 20% to rule out the best price. In addition, they support the community by introducing the token in a number of ecommerce platforms and in all trade exchanges.

For Example, if you shop for a sum of 5000 from Ekart, you will get 5000 invoice points on the invoice, which can be redeemed on the next purchase.

Ekart Inu aims to be one-of-a-kind merchandise to the global market with minimal transaction fees without any financial borders, intermediaries, or annoying bureaucratic routine. Ekart Inu will be a revolution in the retail and ecommerce industry, a platform where you can purchase and invest at the same time without any hassle.
