New York, New York City, Aug 13, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - A board-certified internist with an interest in preventative medicine, Dr. McElwain is a part of the team of professionals at Montgomery County Medical Associates.

Furthermore, he is the Chief of the Division of Internal Medicine and a member of the Board of Trustees at the Holy Redeemer Hospital.

Montgomery County Medical Associates is an internal medicine and primary care practice whose mission is to provide compassionate, high-quality medical and preventive care to the patients who place their trust and well-being in this organization. They strive to make each patient their number one concern as they provide accessible, high-quality medical services by caring professionals.

A 1976 graduate of Sidney Kimmel Medical College, where he served as an Assistant Medical Professor, Dr. McElwain completed his residency in internal medicine at Temple University Hospital in 1979.

A member of the American College of Physicians, he is board-certified in internal medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM). The ABIM is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world.

Continuing to play an active teaching role with medical students and residents, Dr. McElwain's counseling and teaching skills are evident in the caring way he instructs and informs his patients in the management of their health.

Internal medicine is the medical specialty dealing with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of adult diseases. Physicians specializing in internal medicine are called internists. They manage and prevent common and complex diseases by providing comprehensive care and promoting overall well-being.

Recognized by Philadelphia Magazine in 2018 as one of their Top Doctors in Internal Medicine, Dr. McElwain has received awards such as the Patients' Choice Award (2012, 2013, 2014, 2015), Compassionate Doctor Recognition (2012, 2013, 2014), On-Time Doctor Award (2014, 2015), and Top 10 Doctor – City (2014).
