New York, New York City, Aug 6, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Lori R. Allembaugh DO has been in practice with The Pediatric Clinic of Greenville since July 2007.

Additionally, she is affiliated with Hunt Regional Healthcare. Today's medicine is constantly changing, with new developments taking place almost daily in the areas of prevention, diagnosis, and treatment. For the average person, it can be hard to know what is best. At Hunt Regional Healthcare, they are committed to keeping up with the ever-changing advancements in healthcare and bringing the best ones home to keep you healthy. You can count on their team to provide the best in medical expertise and technology. They are proud of the job our dedicated and compassionate staff does to help explain your treatment in simple terms that you can understand.

She attended Southern Nazarene University in Bethany, Oklahoma, and received a degree in Biology-Chemistry. She then moved to Texas to go to medical school at Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine. She got married while in medical school, so she and her husband moved to the Lubbock area for residency. She completed her residency in pediatrics at Texas Tech University Health Science Center, just before she joined the Clinic.

Pediatrics is the branch of medicine dealing with the health and medical care of infants, children, and adolescents from birth up to the age of 18. A pediatrician is a child's physician who provides medical care to children who are acutely or chronically ill, as well as preventive health services to healthy children. They manage the physical, mental, and emotional well-being of the children under their care at every stage of development, in both sickness and health.

She and her husband live in the Greenville area with their two sons and daughter. She enjoys going to the movies, riding bicycles, and spending time with her family. She is involved in the community and with her church.
