What is flat track racing? Recognized as America's oldest organized motorsport on two wheels, flat-track racing originated when motorcycle riders would compete on county fair horse tracks groomed to deliver a hard-packed surface. The rules are simple: go faster than your competition and stay upright. Motorcycles skipping, sliding, and bucking around a small dirt oval make flat track racing thrilling for both riders and spectators alike.

Venue details: Days of '47 Arena is a new 10,000 seat stadium located at the Utah State Fairpark & Event Center which offers modern event facilities in a historical setting. The Utah State Fairpark held the first Utah State Fair in 1856 and has hosted events spanning from the Utah State Fair to the Vans Park Series World Championships. Days of '47 Arena can be found at 300 N 1200 W, Salt Lake City, UT 84116.
