Nickelodeon was looking for a host for the 2016 Nick Awards similar to who I am: sarcastic, cheerful, and cool. I didn't know I had to speak that way until I got to record. In the end, I liked being in front of the cameras, which was an impossible challenge, even speaking to hundreds of people.

Thus it was that Sergionicr's career took off and he became known on social networks thanks to Nickelodeon.

What do you value about social media?

" I think we all see them in different ways, but social media changed my life. I value them 100%, I don't see anything negative about them. " Sergio replied
