The Next-Gen Ecommerce Payment Solution VDV Token is Helping Retailers Cut Costs at All Levels

VDV Token, the blockchain-based low-cost payment solution to the retail sector, is offering 10% on signup!

New South Wales, Sydney, Aug 30, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - VIRVIA's VDV Token is disrupting the retail sector by offering a crypto-based eCommerce payment solution to businesses and their clients. It is partnering with retailers across the globe, cutting down transaction costs, and effectively making crypto the first-choice payment method for everyone. What's more, is that the VDV Token is now on sale; a 10% discount offer is life for all partner stores signing up for the system now.

Blockchain is being increasingly integrated into corporate systems. The retail sector lags because of the operational scale of the vast majority of stores around the world. However, Virvia is changing how these stores leverage the power of cryptocurrency to bring down costs, make transactions secure, and ultimately grow. Launching VDV as a payment solution for the retail sector, Virvia offers more than just a way of using crypto to buy and sell products in the consumer market. It is triggering a switch from the conventional to the new economy for both retailers and consumers. It links the old money to the new programmable and largely internationally acceptable currency. It is giving people more control over their monetary assets and ultimately adding more value to them.

Powered by Binance, the VDV Token already has over 12,000 holders across the globe, and the network only keeps growing. VDV as the payment system is more than an opportunity for retailers to integrate with blockchain. It offers huge benefits in terms of cost-effectiveness in transactions. While Eftpos and debit/credit cards charge between 1.5%-4% as a transaction fee, VDV brings that down to as low as 0.5%. Lower the transaction cost, more attractive a transaction for consumers!

VDV Token is a viable eCommerce payment solution for online retailers too. It can be integrated through popular and trusted plugins like Shopify, OpenCart, WooCommerce, and Magento. It is listed on P2PB2B, BabySwap, VINDAX, CoinGecko, CoinMarketCap, and has most recently partnered with CoinPayments for a secure payment gateway. In the latest developments, the VIRVIA team, which brings to the table years of experience in eCommerce and payment systems, is partnering with brick-and-mortar stores and other stakeholders across the globe. The adoption of VDV as a payment system is a ticket to unmatched growth and a gateway into the future for these retailers.

Virvia is offering a 10% discount to all new partners, which can be shared with the customers as a 5% further decrease in the transaction costs. Adoption is straightforward and workable through numerous crypto platforms. Crypto is quickly becoming an asset with value for the real world, and the VDV Token is the retail sector's option to leverage the benefits of the new, programmable money.

Virvia is an eCommerce payment solutions startup that aims to integrate the retail sector with blockchain, cut transaction costs for consumers and retailers, and safeguard their interests. It has designed the VDV Token as an eCommerce payment solution for the future that is adaptable and workable today. There is a 10% discount offer valid for all stores registering now.
