

Afrobeats artist Judah's brilliant new music video 'DID NOT QUIT' fills your heart with positive vibes

22-year-old Nigerian musician Judah is giving the audience a taste of the real Afrobeats music with his latest music video 'DID NOT QUIT' featuring Kristina RIRA.

Hialeah, Sep 3, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - The genre of Afrobeats brings the brilliant flavors of West African music wrapped in the warm embrace of American Jazz and funk to the audience. Young and prolific Afrobeats singer-songwriter Judah Oluwagbemiga, better known as simply Judah is reintroducing the world with the magnificence of the genre with his exceptional soundscape. He has come up with a brand new number, 'DID NOT QUIT' that is rich in authentic Afrobeats elements. His dynamic vocal performance and his compelling Nigerian accent blended with the soothing melodic backdrop form a symphony of complete sonic perfection. He talks about his life struggles, how he overcame them and achieved success eventually. He inspires the audience with his story and encourages the ones working hard and never giving up on their dreams. The music video features the artist in his traditional native attire enhancing the brilliant flavors of Afrobeats resonance.

Originally from Lagos, Nigeria, the gifted artist moved to the United States when he was young. He was an avid fan of music from a very young age. He learned to play the clarinet in high school after being encouraged by his band director. He later learned to play saxophone to be able to join the jazz band. He won many prizes in the district, state, and regional competitions with his instrument. His profound thematic and instrumental knowledge have helped him become a part of many honorary orchestras throughout the years. The Nigerian musician incorporated all that experiences in his music. He formed an enticing soundscape for Afrobeats fans across the world.

The multi-talented artist started writing music in school as well. He used it to vent out his truest feelings and opinions to the world. For his latest song, he has teamed up with singer Kristina RIRA. She has given a remarkable performance, enhancing Judah's dynamic storytelling in the music video 'DID NOT QUIT'. It already has 88k views and countless positive reviews. He is currently working with the production house AMK Muzik and has already developed a vast fan following. The music video is available on YouTube. Make sure to follow him on Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram to stay updated about his future works.
