

Fun, FREE eBook Donates to Charities while Doubling as an Educational Resource

The Adventures of Mo introduces early readers to cardinal directions & geography, hosts social media games with kid prizes, and donates to animal charities & children's literacy programs

Nevada, Las Vegas, Sep 7, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - A new, FREE children's eBook called The Adventures of Mo (Mo) is an educational resource that targets early readers and doubles as a do-good project. The series introduces cardinal directions, US geography, and state history in a fun, engaging way.

A dog named Mo and a bird named Finchy are on a mission: to find Florida. But where is it? They hitch a ride on top of a delivery truck – without the truck driver's knowledge – and travel to every state in the US in search of the owner of a lost key who lives in the Sunshine State.

Here's why Mo is so unique:

- Each chapter reflects an adventure in a different state, touches upon state geography/history and introduces cardinal directions.
- Readers guess which state the main characters are visiting based on clues in each chapter, and can track their journey across the country.
- It's a do-good project: while anyone can download all 50 chapters for FREE, small donations ($1-$2) are requested. Half of all net proceeds are donated to animal charities and children's literacy programs nationwide; the remaining half sustains the eBook.
- Mo sponsors online social media games with fun prizes for its target audience.
- Engaging activities for early readers are posted on the website's blog.
- Readers can color and then submit chapter drawings to be posted on Mo's online art gallery along with their first name, age, and home state.

"Mo is available to anyone interested in fun, adventure, and learning," says Carol Patton, an award-winning journalist who authored and self-published the eBook. "It gives children the opportunity to see beyond their community and explore the many differences that make up our unique, wonderful country."

The last chapter of the eBook reveals what the lost key unlocks and opens the door for Mo and Finchy's next adventure. The series is designed for early readers, English language learners, and anyone with a sense of adventure; it's an impactful resource for home educational use as well as for school libraries.

To arrange for the author of The Adventures of Mo to remotely speak to students at your school, please contact her at 702-304-0513 or carol@carolpattonwriter.com.

###

Carol Patton is an award-winning journalist with a love for animals and a passion for writing. She created this series as a tribute to her family dog, an American Eskimo named Mozart who passed away at age 10 due to cancer. Through this eBook, Carol hopes to connect with like-minded individuals and activate children's imaginations so they can positively impact the world around them.

Media Contact

Carol Patton

carol@carolpattonwriter.com

702-304-0513

Source : Carol Patton (Writer)

See on IssueWire

