Get to know Chiropractor Dr. Meghan Miller, who serves patients in Fullerton, California.

New York, New York City, Sep 2, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - A licensed chiropractor, Dr. Miller works with patients at her private practice, Made to Move Chiropractic, in Fullerton, California. She specializes in sports chiropractic to help people of all ages heal from injuries and improve their performance.

As such, she has extensive training in kinesiology, spinal and extremity adjusting, KT taping, myofascial release techniques, and several different chiropractic adjusting techniques. This allows her to provide comprehensive and individually specific treatment for all Made to Move patients.

Her passion for understanding how the body moves and how to improve that movement started at a young age and continues today. Dr. Miller continues to learn new and advanced techniques to further help her patients achieve their goals.

Prior to opening her private practice, she was affiliated with Sunny Hills Chiropractic for almost 8 years and was a Professor at Golden West College.

Academically, Dr. Miller received her Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology from California State University. She then went on to earn her Doctor of Chiropractic degree from Palmer College of Chiropractic West Campus and was awarded the 2012 Sports Council Intern of the Year.

Furthering her education, she obtained the postgraduate designation of Certified Chiropractic Sports Physician (CCSP) through the American Chiropractic Board of Sports Physicians (ACBSP). With this, she joined an elite group of practitioners who are recognized internationally for their advanced skills in the prevention and treatment of athletic injuries as well as diagnostic skills and patient care.

Chiropractic is a form of alternative medicine that mainly deals with the diagnosis and treatment of mechanical disorders of the musculoskeletal system, especially the spine. A chiropractor uses spinal adjustments, manipulation, and other techniques to manage patients' health concerns, including neck pain, back pain, headaches, vertigo, and a long list of other ailments and conditions. They aim to improve patients' functionality and quality of life by properly aligning the body's musculoskeletal structure and enabling the body to heal itself naturally, without the use of medication or surgery.
