

Miss Universe Stunner Dora Rodriguez Shows Support for Drake's CLB Album Release in Toronto Amidst Feud with Kanye West

Ontario, Toronto, Sep 7, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Miss Universe model Dora Rodriguez who has graced the cover of Harper's Bazaar and Playboy magazines, amongst many others, has taken to Toronto's popular Dundas Square to show support for fellow Canadian, Drake, as his new album "Certified Lover Boy" was released.

Lately, Drake has been in the headlines for his ongoing feud with rapper Kanye West, which has only been intensified as Drake has recently leaked the "Donda" album outtake titled "Life of the Party."

West had briefly shared Drake's Toronto home address on social media, which Drake referenced on the CLB track "7 a.m. on Bridle Path": "Give that address to your driver, make it your destination / Instead of just a post out of desperation."

Amongst this turmoil, many have chosen to support either Drake or Kanye West publicly, as they both released new albums. Both rappers have rented promotional billboards in Dundas Square, Toronto, which some have said shows how they are both competing for the spotlight.

Model Dora Rodriguez recently made an Instagram post posing in front of both Drake and Kanye West's billboards in the said square, while promoting the brand Pretty Little Thing, of which she is a brand ambassador. Her caption, however, reads: "Eenie meenie miny mo... Well you know here in Canada we support our CLB," making it clear that she is on team Drake.

The Canadian model, who has a massive following of over 350k on Instagram, looked stunning in Toronto, standing tall at almost 5'9", showcasing her feminine, toned, and curvaceous body, while posing in the sexy Chocolate Basic Ribbed Long Sleeved Midi Dress of the popular brand "Pretty Little Thing." In the first photo, she showcased a cheeky smile, in front of Drake's billboard, clearly showing her support for him. While in the second, posing in front of the large "Donda" billboard she showcased a sad expression.

Rodriguez is an accomplished cover model who has worked with many popular brands, via influencer marketing, like Dior Beauty, Victoria's Secret, Pretty Little Thing, Fashion Nova, and countless others. Her career started as she became a finalist for the most prestigious and world-renowned beauty pageant Miss Universe, the Canadian edition. Since then, she has graced popular magazine covers like Harper's Bazaar, Playboy, and FHM. She recently has expanded her artistic vision to acting, by filming a TV show in London, set to be released on Netflix this fall.
