

Moon Technolabs Completes 12 Years: This Calls For A Celebration

Illinois, Chicago, Sep 1, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Anniversaries are often taken as the most prolific and wonderful time to honour something. And when it comes to companies, it's more refreshing when every member does their best to create a magnificent future for the company. With that being said, Moon Technolabs proudly celebrates its 12th anniversary.

Having reached another milestone, the 12 years anniversary celebration was a complete callback to the company's strength and how it sailed through the storm with its fair share of ups and downs. Moon Technolabs was founded and guided by the watchful eye of Jayanti Katariya, the CEO of the company. His complete passion and dream towards delivering a path to smooth the mobile app development solutions have driven him to the establishment of the company.

Mr. Jayanti Katariya believes that the ultimate strength comes from an abstract. And when you work diligently towards turning that idea into a product, you're halfway there. The next part is important, which is to employ the perfect people to work for your company. You're gonna be looking at a long hard and bumpy journey if your team doesn't have what it takes. But with the right people, the journey could endure ups and downs and capitalize.

And this could be witnessed as the growth of the company has been a wonderland for employees and clients from all over the world. With having 150+ employees, the following image will give you an insight into the company's growth.

Celebration Begins

Before the journey, a little setting. We decided to take this trip full of fun and admiration to Udaipur. Udaipur, the city of beauty and lavish royal residences. What better place is there to celebrate this event, right?

The celebratory event started with a brief introduction to the company's journey. The sweet taste of coffee and the refreshing speech of the CEO had everyone in awe. He began sharing his experience to guide us through the next chapters of our lives.

Time To Honor The Megastars

After the morning pep talk, it was now time to pay respect to those who did amazingly well. Success can't be measured. There can not be a single factor that would lead to it. But if you have passion for your work, you can do wonders. And the megastars at Moon Technolabs did just that. The following group of dedicated team members rose to the occasion and they've been honoured with special awards.

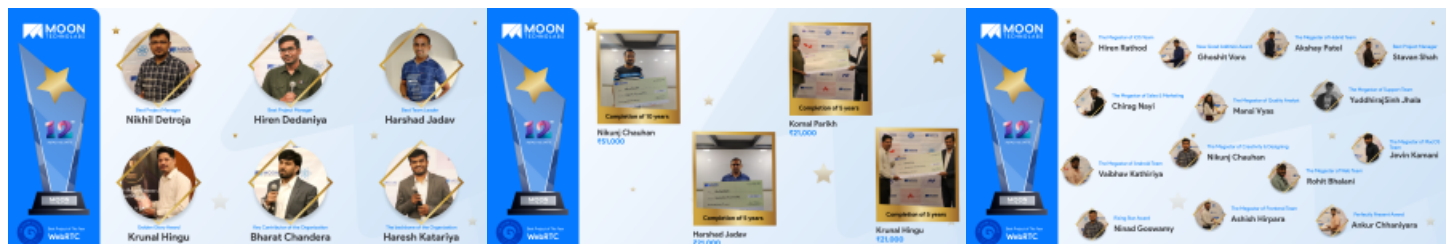

Loyalty Bonus Is Calling

After that, the CEO greeted the members with a loyalty bonus who have been a part of Moon Technolabs' journey for a longer period of time. They have indeed treated the company as their second home and their loyalty and dedication were met with the equal prize.

Megastars Who Shine In Their Area Of Expertise

When dedication is what you take for breakfast, it will surely give some health benefits. And the members who are well versed in their respective areas were also given the awards.

Moon Technolabs had a blast with the celebration. With the award ceremony, we also partake in fun activities such as games, chitter-chatter, dancing, etc. All in all, this refreshment was needed and the team members will keep up the good work for the betterment of the company.
