We own a sole subsidiary factory named Anhe and another 3 joint-ventured factories. During these years, we have always adopted the most advanced and sophisticated production line as well as advanced processing technology and test method, including NC boring machine, NC lathe, NC drilling machine, tricolor measuring machine, and so on.

All these machines and measuring instruments are favorable for the manufacturing of top-quality products.

Although we are surrounded by a fiercely competitive auto industry, we are constantly improving the products series and imposing a strict requirement on product quality control. Throughout these years, we adhere to the management on the processing technology and standard, provide the most reliable and top-quality products as well as offer more favorable payments terms for the long-term business partners.

We give priority to honesty and trustworthiness to our customers, thus creating more value for them.

Teaho Import and Export Co., LTD. will be your trusted and trustworthy business partner in the auto parts industry throughout South America.

Looking forward to starting cooperation and draw a more beautiful future with you!
