California, City of Industry, Sep 29, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Winjet Automotive is pleased to announce its return as a featured pavilion at SEMA 2021, Nov. 2 through Nov. 5, at the Las Vegas Convention Center. As one of the SEMA's Global Media Award Winner in 2017, Winjet is proud to have established an industry-wide global recognition for its performance automotive parts.

"Our new designs and technologies are sure to continue standing out in the automotive lighting industry these years. Winjet Automotive focuses on every aspect of the manufacturing process - From the initial design to quality assurance, we make sure that not only do our products remain durable for the consumers' day-to-day lifestyle, but also provide them with safety and a sense of satisfaction with our stylish and innovative designs," said General Manager, Kyle Lee of Winjet Automotive. "When COVID-19 hit last year, many lives were shifted to a more off-the-grid lifestyle. We have discovered an increasing demand for more off-road/overland products. We have, therefore, expanded our product categories to include more off-road overland automotive body parts and accessories. To add on top of that, we have also decided to exhibit our booth at the new West Hall this year, along with other "Truck and Off-Road" parts manufacturers. We are excited to display our new LED projectors headlights, taillights, fog lights; and most importantly, showcase our new off-road brand WOLFSTORM Offroad and its pure US-designed parts."

WOLFSTORM Offroad, an off-road vehicle parts and accessories manufacturer, makes its initial debut as an exhibitor for SEMA 2021 at booth 55061.

"WOLFSTORM represents our hunger for adventure; embodied through our mission to manufacture the best US-designed off-road parts and accessories," said Marketing Supervisor, Dean Chen of WOLFSTORM. "From adaptable bumpers to LED light bar light brackets, WOLFSTORM was developed through our engagement and support of the off-road and Overlanding community.
