

A New NFT Project 'Crypteasers' Coming To Opensea On 13th October 2021.

United Kingdom, London, Oct 5, 2021 (issuewire.com) - CrypTeasers is an upcoming NFT project which presents an opportunity for anyone to own a unique cheeky token, much like a collectible baseball card. The project focuses on introducing a new, quirky dynamic to identity-themed art, all created by an entirely anonymous artist.

The CrypTeasers team felt that the Crypto space was missing a bit of flirty fun. This project commemorates the 90's decade, which saw pixel art and gameplay by day and pole and lap dance by night fusing this nostalgic touch with the new age of digitization and Crypto.

In this dystopian era of overnight millionaires, teenagers making fortunes from their bedrooms, and the unparalleled uses of blockchain technology, one aspect of the ever-expanding cryptocurrency industry are NFTs; or non-fungible tokens. So, what is a non-fungible token and why does it exist? Tokenizing any piece of data or media is possible, whether that be an image, sound, book, or even your favorite tweet.

For anyone who has dabbled in the Crypto NFT space, you would know about some of the household names. A notable project is CryptoPunks, which launched 10,000 generated pixel characters, which have sold for over $1.35bn.

So why are celebrities such as Eminem, Snoop Dogg, and Grimes spending millions on non-tangible art which can be downloaded or screenshotted freely?

Well, the blockchain acts as an authentication system meaning only one owner is assigned to the original, in the same way, anyone could have a print of the Mona Lisa, but only one original exists. This opens a huge new dimension to the digital property industry, where expensive Jpeg files may spark the journey to faster user authentication, and best of all, it's all hosted via the blockchain, the most secure fraud-proof framework for money, asset, storage, and transfer!

The CrypTeasers project is set to launch on the 13th of October via OpenSea, the largest and most reliable NFT marketplace. Based on similar NFT collections such as CryptoPunks, it wouldn't be unusual for these to fetch thousands of pounds on the resell market.

This space needed something refreshing, cheeky, and completely out of the box, where CrypTeasers has the potential to take the market by storm. We are excited to follow this project, along with the wacky and wonderful world of NFT's where the sky is the limit!
