

BAND-MAID's song "Sense" from anime "Platinum End" is out on streaming services and CD!

Japan, Tokyo, Oct 28, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - BAND-MAID, a hard rock band who is well known for their Japanese maid costumes, has released a new song "Sense" in full size for streaming and CD recently. The music video for "Sense" has also been released alongside.

"Sense" is the opening theme song of the TV anime "Platinum End" and has been attracting attention with its magnificent strings at the beginning. In the music video, you can enjoy not only the intense performance scenes of BAND-MAID but also the scenes of red and white lights shining on the members and white feathers flying in the air, all of which are closely related to the world of TV anime "Platinum End".

To commemorate the release of BAND-MAID's "Sense" CD and full-size distribution, a poster present campaign for CD purchasers and a campaign to play the song on music streaming services have also been decided. Some of the campaigns are open to overseas fans, so Masters and Princesses (the name of BAND-MAID's fans) all over the world are encouraged to check it out.

The movie "KATE," in which the band played themselves, has become a hot topic all over the world, including the number one movie on Netflix (according to flixpatrol.com as of September 11, 2021). We can't take our eyes off BAND-MAID as they accelerate toward their theme of world domination.
