Oregon, Portland, Oct 11, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Nyxio Technologies Corporation (OTCPink: NYXO) - an innovative manufacturer of cutting-edge Smart TVs and consumer electronics devices, announces today Reign Financial International intends to create a funding strategy for the company.

Reign Financial is creating a funding solution for an innovative fledgling tech company, Nyxio Technologies. The investment will assist Nyxio's ability to become a reporting company again while completing its firmware and software design goals, which include its multi-device eco-system. This ends a dormant period for Nyxio, which remains a significant leader for today's ever-growing lifestyle and content demand for such an essential comprehensive multiple device management systems.

Reign Financial's CEO, Giorgio Johnson, who is the founder and the driver of the first stage of Nyxio's development, now sees the timing as perfect for its completion and launch. He commented, "The timing for driving Nyxio's final stage of development and comprehensive launch is perfect. The huge change in consumers' lifestyles is now creating an almost overwhelming demand for a truly seamless management system to integrate this ever-expanding way of engaging and accessing content across multiple media, computing, and mobile services devices. This is exactly what Nyxio's intended goals were even prior to the existing markets' expanded demands, and Nyxio remains that very relevant company with the new and intuitive offerings for which the market is ripe, especially now."

Nyxio Technologies had dealt with numerous issues from conflict among investors through its years of development and growth, forcing the company to move away from its initial direction. While the acquisition of 212 Decibel was a promising step forward, underlying investor issues caused insurmountable challenges for Nyxio that the company could not overcome without having the strategic and supportive investment the company sought. Though the company continued to work behind the scenes on new products, stepping back from the public eye became a necessity for Nyxio while the company worked through its financial issues.

Reign Financial's President, Dr. Adam Klein, strongly endorses the timing of the new investment and commented, "Reign Financial sees this as the right moment and the right opportunity to provide Nyxio the capital solutions it needs to complete and launch its leading-edge products. This investment strategy will bring a highly valuable service to the market at a perfect moment to meet demand while also reflecting Reign Financial's expanding view of its capacities over and above its now well established financial market successes."

Nyxio has stated it anticipates Reign Financial beginning its initial funding for the company in the coming weeks, with the focus being getting the company reporting again, first and foremost. Nyxio states are also intended to do further product updates and releases as more funding becomes available.
