

That's So Mariana Announces Her New Brand Reignbow Drip

Multi-Talented kid, That's So Mariana, also known as Mariana MaLyn Donnelly not only has talent but she now is an entrepreneur at the age of almost 9 years old.

California, Los Angeles, Oct 7, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Mariana always wanted to come up with a fun cool brand but didn't know quite about what exactly she would be selling. Well, she is into purses, clothes, lipgloss, and jewelry like most girls do, so she decided it would be just that.

The name Reignbow Drip came from her love of rainbows, unicorns, and mermaids, but she gave it a bit of twist by using Reign instead of Rain. Reignbow Drip consists of colorful and fun products from Reignbow Drip Gloss to eye-catching eyeshadow palettes.

Mariana's brand is set to launch on October 24th which is her birthday.

She will be in her hometown of Minneapolis to celebrate the launch with her fellow natives and there are talks about the brand being sold at Mall of America. We are just as excited as she is when her brand launches later in the month.

Be sure to follow her on Instagram and her brand, Reignbow Drip, to stay in the loop about her and her brand.
