

Perth City Subaru Launches All-New 2022 BRZ and WRX Models

Perth, Western Australia Nov 25, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - All-new and better than ever before, Perth City Subaru is welcoming the 2022 Subaru BRZ and Subaru WRX models through its doors.

Both models are an iconic part of Subaru's impressive lineup, and the new generation BRZ and WRX do not disappoint.

An exhilarating new-generation WRX

The Subaru WRX has long been considered one of the best-value performance cars out there, and it's easy to see why. A muscular body paired with a throaty rumble that excites car lovers everywhere, the new 2022 WRX takes it that next level up.

Choose between a classic Sedan or, for the first time ever, a Sportswagon that will get your heart racing and blood pumping. This symmetrical all-wheel drive has the highest level of safety and a performance-driven, robust chassis and body that is thrilling to drive.

So what's new? Upgraded handling reminiscent of the most agile rally cars, direct-injection turbocharged Subaru Boxer engine, retuned suspension, and brand new trim levels. Paired with the redesigned, athletic body, the 2022 WRX is a dramatic presence on the road - and an absolute joy to drive.

The 2022 WRX model has been three decades in the making, and with that comes new and better technology in the cabin. Enjoy an 11.6-inch touchscreen infotainment system with a Sports instrument cluster and multi-function displays, plus a sound system that is guaranteed to get you bopping.

In terms of safety, the WRX continues to deliver. Cutting-edge safety is present in Subaru's EyeSight technologies, with selected variants gaining Lane Centring Function and Speed Sign Recognition, as well as a wider camera to make sure you can see everything around you. Other trim levels enjoy an advanced Driver Monitoring System and Vision Assist technologies.

A new BRZ for the modern thrill-seeker

The 2022 Subaru BRZ keeps all of the classic thrills of past BRZ's, but with the modern performance, you want from a new model.

Lightweight agility has been carefully considered here. The 2022 model has been completely redesigned as a rear-drive coupe, and with this exciting change comes a whole new level of power.

With a lower centre of gravity (it sits around 0.5 inches lower than its predecessor), the new BRZ simply feels more like a sports car should. Not to mention the 2.4-litre flat-four-cylinder engine that replaces the previous model's 2.0-litre engine giving you more oomph and power than ever before.

The interior delivers an upgraded design, with new technology, yet remains practical. It's driver-centric, like always, with a brand new 8.0-inch digital infotainment system. And for those who enjoy the old razzle-dazzle, enjoy some sleek red accent lines throughout the upholstery.

Despite the all-new BRZ being lower than the previous models, visibility is still top-notch. Thinner pillars mean vision is fantastic, despite the lower positioning. The seating is also better bolstered to ensure you feel safe and secure when coming around those corners.

As for the Subaru features, we know and love, the 2022 Subaru BRZ offers its EyeSight system, with safety favourites including Adaptive Cruise Control, Lane Keep Assist, Sway Warning, Pre-Collision Braking, and more.

What's the verdict?

Both the WRX and BRZ are high-performance models for car enthusiasts.

The rally-inspired WRX is the ideal choice for drivers who want that little bit of extra power in a slightly larger body. Drivers will feel large and in charge driving this model but, despite the larger size, will still fly down those open roads with ease and speed. The WRX is a Subaru classic for a reason, and the additions to the new model really step up the WRX's game.

Meanwhile, the BRZ is a fantastic choice for drivers who like to cruise. With spectacular cornering abilities and a lower body, driving the BRZ just feels special. Ultimately, the BRZ is a classic sports car - not really ideal for passengers, but a spectacular option for those who enjoy driving.
