

Rooftop ReP Release Artwork For New Project "MAGNUM OPUS 3"

New York City, New York Jan 4, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Rooftop ReP took to social media to reveal the album artwork for his new project 'MAGNUM OPUS 3'. Fans have been anticipating this release for a while now since the Brooklyn artist has been fueling the anticipation by dropping releases since his October 2019 XXL 'Magazine Artist To Watch' debut and have achieved charting success since that moment.

Photographer Sean Pressly took the album photo with designs done by creative director Delaneau Williams. ReP has been recognized for unleashing a sound that effortlessly bounces between rap to the occasional island vibe music creating something entirely his own. Last month, in October, ReP released the first single off his 'MAGNUM OPUS 3' project, titled The Reason, which collaborates with fellow rapper Bibz Tha Don.

Besides the actual sun, there is no source of joy in the world right now brighter and more sustaining than Rooftop ReP. 'MAGNUM OPUS 3', portrays the soul-resonating ReP we love while making clear that the mindset is always rooftops.
