

Seniors, leave a legacy of love, not a family of super spies because of your lack-lazy record keeping.

Open the door to unanswered questions by sharing the stories only you can tell.

TIME FOR SHARING

MY ESSENCE

VICKIE L. BARTLEY

Hickory, North Carolina Nov 17, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Vickie L. Bartley is the Owner/Manager of Blissful22, an online retailer. At 69 years of age, her greatest love is her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. So with her massive family knowledge, meager holdings, and sloppy bookkeeping, she thought it was time to share her sometimes amusing and other times horror-filled life with them.

“Time for Sharing” My Essence is a book you write on your ancestry, growing up, and letters to those you care about the most. By documenting your medical, financial (no numbers), and legal information, the stress on a family, is minimized. Although none of us are ready to go, eventually, that time will come. Creating your “Time for Sharing,” the positive memories you leave are with love instead of those same family members cursing you for being unorganized.
