“ILU America” (Land of America) is an African full-length feature foreign language film with suspense, intrigue, emotion, love, and action fully subtitled in English. An indigenous emotional classic reality story of an immigrants’ ordeal and survival. The film is a groundbreaking adventure full of humor where the film’s pessimist, Ade, is forced to discover the meaning of resilience. Despite the obstacles and hardships along the way, his mission is to obtain citizenship in a land he was not born in, so he may see his dream come true.

“ILU America” (Land of America) stars leading actors are Taiwo Oduala who also directed and produced the film and Actress Doris Simeon. The film actors also include Adebayo Salami, Bayo Bankole, Ayo Mogaji, Mistura Asunramu, Femi Brainard, Shina Ayooyinlola, and Israel Ogunleye Alayo.

The film has received many accolades and won an award at the Toronto International Nollywood Film Festival for “Best Diaspora Film,” and has already received seven official selections at the Hollywood New Directors Film Festival, Black Film Festival, San Diego Black Film Festival, Marina del Rey Film Festival, Toronto International Nollywood Film Festival, Golden State Film Festival, and the Culver City Film Festival. “This film promises to break Hollywood and Nollywood barriers,” says Oduala.

In addition, Oduala has received other awards with his film “ILU OBA” (The Queens Land) at the British Film Institute for “Best Story,” and African Film and Academy Awards for “Best Screenplay Film.”

Oduala is currently in development on his next two feature films, “Love from America” and “Dreaming of America.” Stay connected with him on social media at Instagram.com/taiwooduala for audition and screening updates.
