

Cardiacare Expands Training To Garden Grove, CA

New facility expands Cardiacare's reach in the So Cal area.

Garden Grove, California Dec 16, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - We have been offering a variety of basic life support training courses in the La Habra and Whittier areas for the past three decades here at Cardiacare CPR & First Aid Training. The programs that we offer include CPR training under the guidance of American Heart Association certified instructors. We also offer first aid classes here in Orange County and the greater Los Angeles area. Per our efforts to expand access to our first aid and CPR classes in the region, our team is proud to announce that we are opening a new training facility based in Garden Grove, CA. The opportunity to open this new training location is something that our entire team is excited about. We look forward to providing first aid and CPR training in Garden Grove to organizations, businesses, and individuals in the area.

We are proud to be a family-owned company here at Cardiacare CPR & First Aid Training. Our team is dedicated to serving area communities by providing BLS CPR classes that are taught by professional staff members who are highly experienced, certified, and dedicated to making a difference.

The new facility that we are opening in Garden Grove will offer community members the opportunity to receive their American Heart Association CPR certification. Our team is proud to work with the American Heart Association as it is the leading organization in the United States for the publishing of BLS and CPR standards.

Our goal at Cardiacare CPR & First Aid Training is to provide community members with vital skills that can assist them in taking life-saving actions during a medical emergency. The interventions that we train community members to take can make a difference in helping to preserve a patient's life before they arrive at a hospital facility. One of the most compelling reasons to learn these skills is the fact that they often get used to saving the life of a loved one.

A major factor that can increase the survival rates of patients experiencing cardiac arrest is early and effective CPR. This is one of the core skills that we teach here at Cardiacare. We also offer instruction in first aid skills and other BLS training. Having community members who possess these skills can make a big difference in the outcomes of patients experiencing medical emergencies. The interventions provided by those trained in CPR and first aid can help to sustain life before the arrival of medical professionals and the patient's transport to a hospital.

When you take a course with our team at Cardiacare, you will receive instruction that includes the utilization of video resources. We also focus a lot of time on hands-on practice of the skills that we teach in our courses. Our friendly and dedicated instructors are American Heart Association certified and we offer discounts for groups. Training can be arranged to take place at your organization's facility and evening and weekend dates are available as well.

As we prepare to open our new training facility in Garden Grove, CA, we would like to extend an invitation to area individuals, business owners, and community organizations to check out what we offer by viewing our website located at www.CardiacareCPR.com. You will find a wealth of information about our programs. Our dedicated staff members are looking forward to the opportunity to work with the residents, businesses, and organizations of Garden Grove as we provide instruction in these skills that can positively impact the community by helping to save lives.
