Get to know Medical Oncologist Dr. Charles L. Vogel, who serves patients in Plantation, Florida.

New York City, New York Dec 17, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - A trusted medical oncologist specializing in breast cancer treatment and prevention, Dr. Vogel is affiliated with Miami Cancer Institute in Plantation, Florida. His approach to patient care is to spend time listening to and getting to know patients as individuals so that he can determine the best treatment approach for their health and quality of life.

The doctor joined Miami Cancer Institute from the Sylvester Comprehensive Cancer Center, where he was the Director of the Women's Center of the Sylvester Center's Deerfield Beach satellite facility.

Back in 1964, Dr. Vogel earned his medical degree from Yale University School of Medicine. He then went on to complete his residency in internal medicine at the Grady Memorial Hospital in 1966, followed by a fellowship in medical oncology at the NIH Warren Grant Magnuson Clinical Center in 1969.

As a testament to his continued education, he is board-certified in medical oncology and internal medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM). The ABIM is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world.

In the 1970s, Dr. Vogel served as the Chief of the National Cancer Institute's Uganda Cancer Institute. After practicing in Uganda, he received the United States Public Health Service Commendation Medal.

More than 250 of his manuscripts have been published in peer-reviewed publications. During his time in Uganda, he was part of the research team that demonstrated the relationship between hepatitis and primary liver cancer. He also published one of three initial clinical trials of Herceptin for women with breast cancer.

In 2019, Dr. Vogel was awarded the First Annual "Legend in Cancer Care" Award at Total Health Conferencing's "Best of Breast" conference. That same year, he also received the Lifetime Achievement Award at the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce's "Health Care Heroes" award ceremony.

When he is not treating patients, he enjoys spending time with his wife, traveling with family, and scuba diving. He has completed more than 500 dives all over the world and visits St. Kitts each year to dive with sharks.
