Get to know Non-Invasive Cardiologist Dr. Simone N. Cowan, who serves patients in St. Clair Shores, Michigan.

New York City, New York Dec 1, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Cowan is a non-invasive cardiologist specializing in performing diagnostic testing and advanced imaging modalities such as echocardiograms, transesophageal echocardiograms, stress tests, and electrocardiograms to help prevent and manage potential heart problems. In addition to her affiliation with Beaumont Hospital, Grosse Pointe, and Ascension St. John Hospital, she can be found on staff at Eastlake Cardiovascular, P.C. in St. Clair Shores, Michigan.

Eastlake Cardiovascular, P.C. is a comprehensive cardiovascular practice dedicated to providing the most advanced diagnostic, preventive, and therapeutic options for the entire spectrum of cardiac and vascular diseases.

Throughout her academic background, Dr. Cowan earned her Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree from the Des Moines University College of Osteopathic Medicine in 2008. She then went on to complete her residency in internal medicine at St. John Macomb-Oakland Hospital in Warren, Michigan, where she also completed a fellowship in cardiology.

Following her education, the doctor became board-certified in both internal medicine and echocardiography by the American Osteopathic Board of Internal Medicine, an organization that provides board certification to qualified doctors of osteopathic medicine who specialize in the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of disease in adults.

Cardiology is a branch of medicine that deals with disorders of the heart, as well as some parts of the circulatory system. The field includes medical diagnosis and treatment of congenital heart defects, coronary artery disease, heart failure, valvular heart disease, and electrophysiology. Non-invasive cardiologists focus on the detection and treatment of heart disease, using external tests, rather than instruments inserted into the body, to evaluate and diagnose cardiac disorders.
