

The Nation's Largest Virtual Church Records a Remarkable Year of Daily Global Support

Dallas, Texas Dec 12, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - If one considers responding to crises around the globe with support information and even answering the needs of individuals and families daily a virtuous humanitarian endeavor, then Amazing Things The Church, the nation's largest virtual church represents a benchmark for ministries. Dr. Steven DavidSon reveals the reality.

“No question, reaching millions each month virtually as a faith-organization, there is a commensurate real-time cry for help each day. It is not simply ministries around the globe, but also individuals and families. We’re humbled by it, and have responded, particularly with informational resources.”

To some, it may sound ineffective simply to provide information to help the needy and poor, but DavidSon disagrees completely.

“We’re still not getting it, if we do not recognize the extraordinary value of information. First, those reaching us, no matter how poor are doing so through technology. So it is with the same instrumentation we can direct them to every kind of NGO (non-governmental organization) providing what they need including food, shelter, and sources of income. Secondly, government and industry spend enormous investments pursuing information. And as we know, some are based on amassing personal data. It’s not a minor pursuit providing vital information that can be life-changing for those needing it. The difference for us is we are providing information to help them, not for profit or to manipulate them for some personal gain.”

According to DavidSon, while important, information sources for vital necessities are not the only thing provided by Amazing Things The Church ministries.

“No, we also target immediate crisis areas around the globe such as Haiti following the earthquake there and Afghanistan during the US withdrawal providing a continuous lifeline of hope. People need words of hope and encouragement to persevere through times of great stress. We’re available to them while providing daily live programming, and answers to their personal requests in real-time along with Christ-based counseling and educational support.”

When asked about translation capabilities, DavidSon responds accordingly. “Presently, most persons contacting us speak English. It is the language of commerce. However, we do have some translation capabilities, and we have a present Ambassador initiative for translators. Translating will be continuing work for us. And of course, our principle call is to share our Faith, but while we do so we’re not limiting our global services to any group or person in need. If you need us, we’ll support you... It is the Spirit not only of the Season, but all year long...” DavidSon’s Ministry has an info-Site at: cbglobalhelp.info
