

American non-profit company Stellar Millennium, Inc. is offering free resources for kids and teenagers

Tent cities, and disaster aid sites free foods, tents, and backpacks. free junk foods, and candy of all types. free for kids, and teenagers up to the age of 13 years old, and at least the age of 6 years old. company makes kids friendly computers.

Washington, D.C, District of Columbia Jan 25, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Stellar Millennium, Inc. is an American non-profit organization that helps kids and teenagers to get resources for free to low cost including food, clothing, backpacks, and more. It donates to the disaster aid sites in both food and services to help children and teenagers across the country. The company is based on the belief to leave no kids behind.

The site is offering its services for kids up to the age of 6 years old, and teenagers up to the age of 13 years old. They will be providing free resources once a year and 10 to 11 small times helps in a year. They also provide free school shots for kids. They offer FEMA Cash for kids of 6 and under. All these are the parts of their first program that has up to 12000 kids.

Stellar Millennium, Inc. is a Washington DC-based non-profit organization founded by doctor Lora Robinson. Kids and teenagers can get value meals worth $20.00/$35.00, which lasts for 6 to 8 weeks and include breakfast, lunch, and dinner with combo meals option. The company also develops various software, disaster research program services, gift card plans services programs package, and more. Visit them at <http://www.sccmic.com>.

Media Contact

stellar millenium inc non profit

lorarobinsondc@gmail.com

2024871749

1231 savannah pl se

Source : stellar millennium inc non profit

See on IssueWire