New York City, New York Jan 25, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Dr. Chandra is a prominent oncologist who gives genuine and passionate quality care to every patient he handles. He works with patients within the Center for Cancer Care at Saint Clare Denville Hospital. He ensures his patients that he always does his best when managing health conditions.

The Center for Cancer Care at Saint Clare Denville Hospital is accredited by the American College of Surgeons Commission on Cancer. They combine cutting-edge technology like the TrueBeam® Radiotherapy System for the latest in advanced treatment with the expertise of their compassionate staff in a community hospital setting to keep patients close to home when it matters most.

Before embarking on his professional journey, Dr. Chandra graduated with his medical degree from the Albany Medical Center in 1999. He then went on to complete his internship at St. Luke's Roosevelt Hospital Center in 2000, followed by a residency in radiation oncology at the University of Texas Anderson Cancer Center in 2004.

An expert in his field, the doctor is board-certified in radiation oncology by the American Board of Radiology (ABR). The ABR is a not-for-profit physician-led organization that oversees the certification and ongoing professional development of specialists in diagnostic radiology, interventional radiology, radiation oncology, and medical physics.

On a professional level, he is an active member of the American Society of Radiation Oncology and the New York Roentgen Society.

Radiation oncology is a medical specialty that involves the controlled use of radiation to treat cancer. It is one of the three primary specialties – the other two being surgical and medical oncology – involved in the treatment of cancer. A radiation oncologist is a specialist physician who uses ionizing radiation in the treatment of cancer.

On a more personal note, Dr. Chandra's positive outlook in life serves him best when dealing with his patients' diverse afflictions. He loves reading PUBMED journals where he has been published as well. He spends time playing tennis and soccer despite his hectic schedule. He has been lecturing locally and internationally for presentations and meetings. According to him, success is the outcome of excellent training, outstanding mentors, unwavering hard work, and undeniable research.
