J Young MDK is one of the top hip-hop artists of the year. He made a breakthrough into music when in 2019, he created the tantalizing album, 'Now or Never' under the guidance of singer, actor, and comedian Jamie Foxx. His single 'Rich Sh*t' was even played by the infamous basketball team, Miami Heat.

Ever since, he has toured in cities such as L.A, Miami, and Atlanta promoting his four albums. In 2020's holiday season, he utilized his acting chops in 'The App That Stole Christmas' featuring Ray J, Jackie Long, and 'Hustle & Flow' actress, Elise Neal. He has starred in many other films and cannot wait to take on more roles in 2022.

His philanthropic qualities were appreciated when he was named ambassador to the American Diabetes Association once they learned of his Type 1 diagnosis. MDK doesn't let this hiccup get in the way of his businessman mentality. He is proudly the CEO of Before I Go Hollywood, a marketing company for entertainers.

With everything on his plate, he is still managing to perform to the sky's limit. He loves the trueness that music brings and its ability to bring everyone worldwide together. Celebrate music with the explosive rapper at the Bogarts venue. In the meantime, J Young MDK's music can be streamed on all digital platforms and he can be followed on Instagram and /Twitter @jyoungmdk.
