New York City, New York Jan 5, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - A committed family physician, Dr. Stallworth-Kolimas sees patients at her private practice in Hagerstown, Maryland.

Back in 1980, she graduated with her medical degree from the Mayo Medical School. She completed her internship at the Columbus Hospital in 1981, and her residency in family medicine at the Baylor College of Medicine in 1983.

As a testament to her continued education, the doctor is board-certified in family medicine and geriatric medicine by the American Board of Family medicine (ABFM). The ABFM is a non-profit, independent medical association of American physicians who practice family medicine and its sub-specialties.

Family medicine is a medical specialty devoted to comprehensive health care for people of all ages. The specialist is called a family physician or family doctor. A family physician is often the first person a patient sees when seeking healthcare services. They examine and treat patients with a wide range of conditions and refer those with serious ailments to a specialist or appropriate facility.
