Musician GOzliak Released A New Song Called It's Like Him

Los Angeles, California Jan 22, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - We present a perfect tone to self-reflect on a quiet afternoon while the rain trickles on the window glass. GOzliak recently unveiled his new song—It's Like Him. The song is about emotions and feelings which cannot be expressed in simple words. It is the newest edition to the songwriter's already successful song portfolio.

But who is GOzliak?

GOzliak is a newfound addition to the music industry. However, he soared to success quickly due to his individualistic and unique talents as a young music producer. GOzliakis a talented musician who showcases his songs belonging to different music genres.

GOzliak is a creative being with a dedicated interest in playing the piano. Furthermore, he is also a successful songwriter.

His life story wasn't always so successful. GOzliakstruggled when he was a young songwriter as he lacked the resources to practice his talent. However, that did not stop him from achieving success. GOzliak music is recognized day by day with his fan base continuously growing.

GOzliak intends to take the audience through a spiritual journey with his music. After all, that inspired his song "It's Like Him." GOzliak continuously wishes everyone to take a look at themselves. He is aware no one is perfect but that shouldn't stop us from overcoming our shortfalls.

The song is heavily inspired by music from the 1990s. GOzliak used to listen to music from 1960-to 1990 while he was growing up. It inspired him to become a songwriter and a musician from a very young age. Now, he is set to becoming the new face of the music industry.

What It's Like Him about?

We can safely assume the song is about the artist. GOzliak is a good person though he hates hurting others. Seeing someone in pain because of his actions breaks him inside to the point GOzliak becomes severely depressed.

As you listen to the song, you will learn what the musician is trying to say. GOzliak has eventually decided to back away from helping people as his intentions are translated as malicious. He is going to focus on himself, understand his feelings and emotions, and concentrate on healing.

The music producer must save himself from the depression before he decides to save someone else.

Furthermore, GOzliak is also tired of being used for his resources. People in his life dump him after getting what they want which causes him to wonder if they were genuinely interested in him. GOzliak is stuck with constantly explaining why he is hurt while suffering from internal depression. The artist wishes to escape and to learn not to over-trusting people.

The song is a wake-up call to the emphatics out there who also suffer from unknown depression! Even though we are programmed to practice welfare and help others, we must always prioritize ourselves. In addition, we must learn to love ourselves, which the musician admits is a very difficult thing to do.

You will build a closer bond with the song if you come from a dysfunctional family. Depression doesn't have a single cause. It could be unsupportive surroundings, being in a relationship with an addict, severe co-dependency, or controlling issues. Whatever the cause, GOzliak is asking you, through his musical talent, to step back and assess yourself, even if you have the biggest heart.

Where can you listen to the song?

Experience teleporting to a soulful realm by following his social media platforms. Subscribe to GOzliakOfficial or listen to his songs on Spotify. GOzliak music will provoke you to reflect and think about your actions for the better. If his new song questions you about your emotions, let it. The artist will help you evolve into a better person with a fast route to internal glee.

Media Contact

GOzliak

g0zliakofficial@gmail.com

Source : GOzliak

See on IssueWire