

Sarasota based Envoi, Inc. adds new partner as Chief Revenue Officer

Sarasota, Florida Jan 7, 2022 (issuewire.com) - Sarasota-based artificial intelligence company, Envoi, Inc., known in the housing industry for enterprise systems and platforms as solution technology, is pleased to announce Jason Leary as a new business partner and Chief Revenue Officer (CRO).

With over twenty years of experience in sales and business development in the housing industry, Jason brings a wealth of knowledge about the technology needed by multi-family, commercial, and residential housing customers. His specialties include establishing strategic relationships, directing marketing campaigns, and cultivating new accounts.

“I couldn’t be happier to join a company on the cutting edge of artificial intelligence for the housing industry. I look forward to growing the company and becoming a major asset to Envoi,” said Jason.

As an outside sales representative for Envoi, Jason will be based in Clearwater and serve customers worldwide. His position will focus on sales of the ResPort product line, which includes iResident, iMeter, iManage, iProspect, and iMarket.

“Jason’s plentiful sales experience in the housing industry makes him a huge asset to our team, and I’m excited to have him as a partner and implement the insight he brings,” said Matthew Ortner, Envoi’s President & Lead Architect.

Please feel free to contact Jason Leary at 727-403-2659 or by email at jason@envoi.ai to set up a product demonstration.
