

Adidas Copa 20+ FG/AG Precision to Blur – Core Black/Signal Orange Shoe Added to the Prosoccer Store Shoes' Collection

Adidas Copa 20+ FG/AG Precision to Blur

Vadodara, Gujarat Feb 22, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - The Adidas Copa 20+ FG/AG Precision to Blur – Core Black/Signal Orange shoe, built with Fusionskin technology and mixed with current style and absolute comfort, was launched by the team of Adidas footwear inventors and is now added to the collection of Prosoccer store.

The boot is made of kangaroo leather and has the groundbreaking Fusionskin technology, which decreases water absorption and provides unparalleled comfort. The top is made of X-Ray foam cushions, which enable controlled ball touches and the sensation of being fully near to the ball.

The insole is made of Ortholite, and foam cushions are precisely positioned to give excellent shock absorption. Placeless design that is innovative and anatomical for a barefoot experience that will revolutionize your touch.

Plush is composed of elastic Prim technology, which gives your foot a comfortable fit and a secure lockdown. The Exoframe boot frame delivers supreme stability while also increasing traction and acceleration. Circular and semi-circular stud design that promotes rotation during steep turns.

The foot-hugging top is made up of a seamless combination of soft K-leather and elastic fabric, allowing you to work in comfort. The ridged forefoot provides sufficient shoe space for confident, precise passing without the use of laces.
