New York City, New York Feb 14, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Bloomberg has been an internist with Premier Medical Group since the summer of 2019. Prior to this, he served honorably as an internist in the United States Navy from 2012 to 2019, earning the rank of Lieutenant Commander and a Navy Medal of Commendation for outstanding primary care provided to the Joint Task Force at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. His special interests include intra-articular corticosteroids for joint diseases and Botox for migraine headaches.

Premier Medical Group is proud to conveniently offer a wide variety of services in their primary care clinic, including behavioral health, acupuncture, ultrasounds, allergy testing, botox injections, on-site phlebotomy and radiology, hormone replacement therapy, echocardiography, and more.

Graduating with his Bachelor of Arts degree in English from the University of California, Berkeley, Dr. Bloomberg earned his Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree from the Touro University College of Osteopathic Medicine in 2012. He completed his residency in internal medicine at the Naval Medical Center in 2015. During his residency, he earned an award for clinical excellence on his Intensive Care Unit Rotation. He scored at the top of his class on all his in-service training medicine exams and well above average on his national board specialty exam.

As a testament to his continued education, the doctor is board-certified in internal medicine by the American Osteopathic Board of Internal Medicine, which is an organization that provides board certification to qualified Doctors of Osteopathic Medicine who specialize in the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of disease in adults.

Internal medicine is the medical specialty dealing with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of adult diseases. Physicians specializing in internal medicine are called internists. They manage and prevent common and complex diseases by providing comprehensive care and promoting overall well-being.
