

R&B Bully John Blu Releases New Single "Checking On You" Valentine's Day 2022

John Blu is just "Checking On You" on Valentine's Day, 2022

NEW R&B Single "Checking On You" NOW AVAILABLE on streaming platforms

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Chicago, Illinois – February 14, 2022 – Is the day the world celebrates "Love". With so much happening now, it's refreshing to have music that promotes more serenity and understanding in relationships. John Blu answered the call with "Checking On You". This song breaks down the communication silo that men and women often have. It helps women to understand that most men aren't great communicators and tend to deal with life differently that [in most cases] may not send the best message. He lets women know that if a man is truly feeling you, it's not all about sex but that men have their OWN way of showing their feelings. The female response in the song featuring new comer-Serenetie, adds that validation. The soulful, smooth and melodic flow of the song reminds us of the true meaning of R&B, music that gives a soulful rendition of the struggles of love and/or the joys of love or sex with silky vocals that John Blu gives so effortlessly. "Checking On You" is available now on Spotify, Apple Music and Future House Music streaming sites.

John Blu is a 6x Billboard Charting Independent Artist/Producer/Writer, Engineer & CEO of Singlemakerz that has been making a solid name for himself since the early 2000s. His hit song, "In Love wit Ya Booty" and "Cologne" received national attention in 2010 and 2011. His single, "Blessed," released in 2020 made great strides and became one of the most streamed songs of the year. Its catchy phrase "way too blessed to be stressed" is an affirmation to live by. And, now "Checking On You" is sure to become a relationship anthem for the masses. John Blu has had the opportunity to work with Timbaland, R Kelly, Devyn Stephens, Da Internz, Bobby Valentino, Day 26, Twista, Jeremih, Gucci Mane, D-Lo, and so many more mainstream and up & coming artists in the music industry.

More about John Blu:

John Blu makes contemporary R&B records for clubs, the streets, and bedrooms. A native of Bellwood, Illinois, a suburb directly west of Chicago, the self-nicknamed "R&B bully" (full last name: Bluford) got into music as a youngster. He first played piano, then drums, prior to getting into production, writing, rapping, and eventually singing, entirely self-taught. Just into his teens, Blu made his recorded debut with "Reverse Psychology", and followed it up a couple years later with "Undiscovered". Signing with the independent label AAU primed him for a short-term deal with major-label Jive. Blu's third proper album, "Sacrifice Before Success", was issued independently in 2017. During the years between full-lengths, Blu released non-album singles and continued to set the bar high for R&B newcomers.

If you would like to add "Checking On You" to your sites, playlists and rotation and/or interested in interviewing John Blu for your site, podcast, or radio show, please see contact below.

To hear "Checking On You" from John Blu featuring Serenetie and see the video, please visit:

<https://music.apple.com/us/album/chec...>

https://drive.google.com/file/d/1YqZc4gBwiHnwFk9XdDh73Em2er0BDD_9/view

Video: https://youtu.be/of3A_rQvbPA

Links-

Official Site: <https://www.john-blu.com>

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/blubeats>

Instagram: https://www.instagram.com/johnblu_

Spotify: <https://open.spotify.com/artist/2nzukOvtcviETeY5ZcZT4o>

Contact:

Dee Jones

deejonespr@gmail.com

Chicago, Illinois Feb 14, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - John Blu is just "Checking On You" on Valentine's Day, 2022

NEW R&B Single "Checking On You" NOW AVAILABLE on streaming platforms

Is the day the world celebrates "Love". With much happening now, it's refreshing to have music that promotes more serenity and understanding in relationships. John Blu answered the call with "Checking On You". This song breaks down the communication silo that men and women often have. It helps women to understand that most men aren't great communicators and tend to deal with life differently than [in most cases] may not send the best message. He lets women know that if a man is truly feeling you, it's not all about sex but that men have their OWN way of showing their feelings. The female response in the song featuring newcomer-Serenetie, adds that validation. The soulful, smooth, and melodic flow of the song reminds us of the true meaning of R&B, music that gives a soulful rendition of the struggles of love and/or the joys of love or sex with silky vocals that John Blu gives so effortlessly. "Checking On You" is available now on Spotify, Apple Music, and Future House Music streaming sites.

John Blu is a 6x Billboard Charting Independent Artist/Producer/Writer, Engineer & CEO of Singlemakerz that has been making a solid name for himself since the early 2000s. His hit song, "In Love wit Yo Booty" and "Cologne" received national attention in 2010 and 2011. His single, "Blessed," released in 2020 made great strides and became one of the most streamed songs of the year. Its catchy phrase "way too blessed to be stressed" is an affirmation to live by. And, now "Checking On You" is sure to become a relationship anthem for the masses. John Blu has had the opportunity to work with Timbaland, R Kelly, Devyn Stephens, Da Internz, Bobby Valentino, Day 26, Twista, Jeremih, Gucci Mane, D-Low, and so many more mainstream and up & coming artists in the music industry.

More about John Blu:

John Blu makes contemporary R&B records for clubs, the streets, and bedrooms. A native of Bellwood, Illinois, a suburb directly west of Chicago, the self-nicknamed "R&B bully" (full last name: Bluford) got into music as a youngster. He first played piano, then drums, prior to getting into production, writing, rapping, and eventually singing, entirely self-taught. Just into his teens, Blu made his recorded debut with "Reverse Psychology", and followed it up a couple of years later with "Undiscovered". Signing with the independent label AAU primed him for a short-term deal with major-label Jive. Blu's third proper album, "Sacrifice Before Success", was issued independently in 2017. During the years between full-lengths, Blu released non-album singles and continued to set the bar high for R&B newcomers.

If you would like to add "Checking On You" to your sites, playlists, and rotation and/or are interested in interviewing John Blu for your site, podcast, or radio show, please see contact below.

To hear "Checking On You" from John Blu featuring Serenetie and see the video, please visit:

<https://music.apple.com/us/album/chec...>

https://drive.google.com/file/d/1YqZc4gBwiHnwFk9XdDh73Em2er0BDD_9/view

Video: https://youtu.be/of3A_rQvbPA

Links-

Official Site: <https://www.john-blu.com>

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/blubeats>

Instagram: https://www.instagram.com/johnblu_

Spotify: <https://open.spotify.com/artist/2nzukOvtcvlETeY5ZcZT4o>

Contact:

Dee Jones

deejonespr@gmail.com

Media Contact

Dee Jones Pr & Consulting

deejonespr@gmail.com

Source : SingleMakerz Productions

See on IssueWire

