

RippleX Grants $50,000 USD To In Game Credit (IGC) Under The XRPL Grants Program

Sydney, New South Wales Feb 24, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - IGC (In-Game Credit) a retail metaverse gaming company built on the XRP ledger is thrilled to announce that it has been selected to receive a Reward of US$50,000 under the XRPL Grants Program.

The judging panel reviewed hundreds of grant applications, IGC stood out as a thoughtful, high-potential project, the objective of the XRPL Grants Program is to support independent, third-party development of projects like IGC that leverage the XRP Ledger.

“We can’t wait to see the progress you make on your project and are grateful for your contributions to the XRP Ledger community and the Internet of Value!” mentioned Monica Long General Manager, RippleX

The reward grant will be used for development on IGCs location-based open-source NFTs. Through the grants process, IGC has outlined monthly steps to achieve these goals. The grant combined with the successful roadshow provides IGC with an exciting future.

IGC CEO Simon Church was ecstatic with the news “The team has been working hard to build a feasible ecosystem that brings together a number of programs – rewards for retailers, metaverse applications, virtual real estate, and an NFTs marketplace. IGC decided early on to build on the XRPL platform due to speed, security, low transaction cost, and fantastic community. And we feel that today’s announcements really proves both IGC and XRPL platform”

Simons Church’s IGC team recently made headlines after being the only cryptocurrency to present at the CES show in Las Vegas in early January 2022, this was followed up by their presence at New York's largest retail show, NRF in mid-January. IGC and their related metaverse product ihunt4 featured heavily at the NRF, where Simon was selected to display his technology in an exclusive zone set up for the top 50 startups – an achievement that saw retailers flocking to his stall. The largest brands in the world are all excited by the technology and are in discussions.

“Ultimately, this proves that not only are we on the right track, but we also have validation from one of the world's leading and most respected blockchain ecosystems – XRPL. The grant process was tough – the due diligence was thorough and I am incredibly proud of the team to not only get through the process but to be awarded a grant” mentioned Simon Church

IGC trades on the XRPL platform, It is an exciting metaverse gaming company with multiple integrations. We look forward to bringing you more news on the development and the retail advancement.
