

AGDisplays: Hand-Selected Rugged LCD Solutions for Marine & Military Segments

AGDisplays has just launched their newly designed LCD product store where b2b customers can springboard their equipment designs with specialized LCD panels. Select display solutions are built with rugged and protective enhancements for marine and mil

Greensburg, Pennsylvania Mar 22, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - As AGDisplays' secondary site, industrial-lcd.com offers LCD products that are suited to Marine, Military and Industrial segments. These customers can get a quote for enhanced LCD panels that are built with their applications in mind. "We aim to help customers help themselves so they can explore if one of our previous designs can work for them which would cut down design time and increase their productivity," says Mike, Vice President of AGDisplays.

This site is located 'right next store' to agdisplays.com, where customers can still go to search the AGD database for OEM part numbers, datasheets, sort and filter by LCD specifications, and more.

AGDisplays has positioned itself to provide expansive LCD sourcing and manufacturing support to the United States. Most of their products are assembled in the AGD headquarters. With their Pennsylvania location, AGDisplays offers customers one-to-one support that focuses on providing long-term value.
