Who is Jacob Sunday, and where are you from?

Jacob Sunday is someone who loves to make the best music possible for his fans. He loves giving his fans what they want to hear. I'm extremely chill and really laid back most of the time which is probably another reason why I keep a lot of women in my fan base. Jacob Sunday gives them good music and a positive attitude as a good double dosage of fun, but I can't get mad at that! But I was born and raised in San Diego, California. I lived there until I was 15 and then moved out to the East Coast in Virginia.

Describe the music scene in your city?

The music scene is real vivid if I can put it in one word, It's very diverse here, being in the area of D.C, Maryland and Virginia, and West Virginia. I'd say very modern and by far up to date with everything that's going on with music entertainment.

Describe your style?

My Music is very universal, I get statements from people commenting on being either a pop, r&b, hip hop, or alternative entertainer. Simply universal. Great for a wide variety of fans though.

What should people expect from your upcoming projects?

Always Have faith in the Father through Christ, and he will pull through for you.
