

Highly experienced arthritis specialist to join Colton Health

Scottsdale, Arizona Mar 13, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Colton Health has hired a vastly-experienced new doctor to its practice.

Dr. James Clark joins Scottsdale healthcare provider Colton Health and will specialize in Arthritis after a highly successful career that has seen him work and travel to over 25 countries.

He joins from private practice in northwest Chicago where he has practiced since October 2000 and holds Diplomates from the American Board of Internal Medicine and Rheumatology and the American Board of Nuclear Medicine.

Before this, he worked in academic settings at the Medical College of Georgia, the University of Cincinnati Hospital, the East Tennessee State University, and the Emory University School of Medicine in Georgia.

Dr. Clark was born in Atlanta, GA, and raised in a small town in the southeast of the state, where he attended public schools through high school.

At college, he majored in English and briefly studied at Oxford University in England.

He lists his interests like traveling, sports, music, history, and culture.

On joining Colton Health, Dr. Clark said: "It is an honor to be joining such a progressive organization as Colton Health. During my career, I have always been open to new ideas and approaches, but am respectful of those that have been found to be successful, even if they have been around a long time. I aim to put those attitudes into practice in the most effective ways possible in my new role."
