

India's top florist Phoolwala.com resumes corporate flower delivery service after Covid-induced gap

New Delhi, Delhi Mar 28, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - India's leading online flower delivery and gifting service, Phoolwala bears good news for people all over the country wanting to send their loved ones flowers, chocolates, soft toys, and more on special occasions. The company is happy to announce that it is resuming its corporate flower bouquet delivery service after Covid-19 is under control in India. During the peak time of the pandemic in India, the company stopped its corporate flower delivery services due to different social restrictions imposed by the government. But now when the situation is much better with lower infection rates, the company has decided to start their corporate flower delivery service once again. Now individuals and organizations can send flowers to anyone in any city in India conveniently.

The company offers various types of flowers for gifting. The users can buy bouquets and arrangements of roses, gerberas, carnations, lilies, orchids, and more in various colors and sizes. All the bouquets are arranged nicely and wrapped carefully so they not only look beautiful but maintain their shape and do not get ruined during the delivery. The company also has flowers in vases that make them a perfect gift. They offer top-quality flowers and various varieties of roses that are quite hard to find. The company offers a same-day delivery service for all its customers and guarantees fast and safe delivery in many cities across the country like Mumbai, Delhi, Hyderabad, Bangalore, Pune, Kolkata, Chennai, and many more.

The website has several other gifts other than flowers. The buyers can get baskets of sweets, chocolates, soft toys, and more to send to their loved ones on special occasions along with flowers. Phoolwala has a wide collection of cakes that can be ordered individually or with flowers. They have eggless cakes, fruit cakes, different flavored cakes in various shapes and sizes for all occasions. They have a special section for corporate gifts. They offer gifts and flower bouquets for different corporate events like awards, farewells, introduction, first contract, etc. The buyers can get gifts for senior management, middle management, junior management, new joiners, bouquets for CEO, COO, CFO, VP, GM, director, HR manager, and more with personalized messages.

The company works with the best florists in the country. They always offer fresh flowers that will also stay fresh for a couple of days. Armed with its exceptional chain of florists based in various cities in India, the company is able to offer super-fast and highly efficient delivery while maintaining the quality of its products. The best part of their services is same-day delivery. Forgetting to buy flowers and gifts before an important occasion is quite common these days for people's busy modern lives. With the help of Phoolwala, people can order and get the delivery of the flowers and gifts to India on the same day, in just a few hours with just a click. People staying away from their loved ones can still send them gifts on their special days and surprise them by ordering on the site.
