

Learn about Mwanandeke Kindembo's Family, Birthplace, Education, Nationality, Quotes. etc.

Who is Mwanandeke Kindembo?

Dublin, Ireland Mar 10, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Short Biography :

Mwanandeke Kindembo is a Congolese author of self-help books. He's an engineer by profession, passionate about sharing ideas, most of them through writing. His appetite for writing emerged after graduation, when he obtained a BEng (Hons) in Computer Engineering at TU Dublin. Mwanandeke studied at Patrician High School, Institute of Technology Blanchardstown, and Technological University Dublin. Subsequently, he became involved in philosophical, psychological, theological and mystical works. Which are the main subjects of his books.

Biography Summary :

Full Name: Mwanandeke Kindembo.

Born: November 11, 1996, Baraka, Democratic Republic of the Congo.

Nationality / Origin: Congolese.

Education: BEng (Hons) in Computer Engineering at TU Dublin.

Graduation Year: 2019.

Occupation(s): Author | Engineer | Entrepreneur.

Hobbies: Taking short walks on the weekends, reading & writing.

Interests: STEM, Philosophical, Psychological, Theological and Mystical works.

Mwanandeke Kindembo Quotes :

People are beautifully made just like flowers in the garden.

Change can be made only when you understand the true nature of things and not when you've formed weird images of them into your head.

I believe that the mind is the last planet that's left unexplored—Achieving the universal or cosmic consciousness is the highest goal to mankind.

Confidence is similar to luck. You can't hold it forever at your service!

A genius separates himself from things which are not useful nor beneficial. While you are eager to try new technologies—A genius is thinking about how to invent something totally different that will be used by all.

All the holy scriptures are useless without people having faith into their hearts.

A capitalist regime is more likely to produce these narcissistic behaviours in its citizens compared to a socialist country.

A musician is similar to someone who wrote a letter to the loved one. Then decided to read it out loud instead of sending it.

A single farmer can feed the whole town, but no one will ever notice his death. Except when they are feeling hungry again. That's the nature and ingratitude of humanity.

A society where emotions come last and selfishness is considered blessed, or placed first before anything; cannot be expected to produce good fruits!

Adulthood is within the mind and not in age.

Bless yourself first before expecting God to bless you.

Charity is any kind act. No matter how little it may appear before others.

Don't be afraid nor too weak of doing, dreaming and hoping for the best. Even though you know that life will give you the worst outcomes at the end of the day. One day, the door of success will be widely open and patiently waiting for you to enter through it.

Don't be shy to love once again. Because everyone is immature when it comes to love.

- Quotes Source: Mwanandeke Kindembo

Media Contact

MwanaKin

info@mwanakin.com

Dublin

Source : Mwanakin

See on IssueWire