

Muntela Announces Operations and Product Release in Canada

Toronto, Ontario Mar 9, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Muntela, a manufacturer of the Antimicrobial Dressing Role System (ADRS) is launching operations and making her product available for the Canadian market. The Muntela ADRS is a wound absorbing silver nanoparticles dressing product that speeds up the healing process by protecting wounds from bacterial and viral infections. It employs the combination of two proven antimicrobial agents (both Ag and PHMB are included in the Canadian Wound Treatment Formulary) providing the most optimal barrier and antimicrobial function for wounds.

The Silver nanoparticles produced by green methods contain antioxidants and have low toxicity against human cells. Stabilized by a series of phenols extracted from tea or hibiscus among other plants, these particles are attached to the surface, and then covered with polyvinylpyrrolidone (PVP) which helps to produce a surface that is covering the whole dressing.

Muntela aims to stop the spread of infectious wounds by supporting healthcare professionals in providing care for diabetes patients and those with complex wounds. The product will minimize the risk and complications of external microbial activity. It also aims to speed up patient's postoperative recovery - making it as successful as the surgery itself.

Muntela's ADRS can be used for patients who have diabetes feet, fire wounds, leg ulcers, melanoma ulcers, elderly recovery, and more. As opposed to traditional and competitors' dressing products, Muntela's ADRS has no risk of silver penetration into a patient's blood or urine, prevents toxic contamination, neutralizes odor, protects the skin cell, ensures speedy recovery, among others. The dressing is best applied when a wound is healthy and open.

Muntela is a health start-up run by a team of professionals who are at the top of their game. With her ADRS at the research and developmental stage, Muntela is calling for partners who are major distributors and wholesalers of medical supplies to join in the protection of patients with complex and compromised wounds by pre-ordering for her ADRS product.

For more information about Muntela and her product, kindly visit <https://www.muntela.ca/>.

Media Contact

Muntela

MUNTELA@protonmail.com

Source : Muntela

See on IssueWire