

New Song launched on 'Wanted Prince Music Channel' touches amazing heights of popularity

New Delhi, Delhi Mar 8, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - The rising star of Punjabi music, Prince Kumar has launched his new song titled 'End' which has won the hearts of music lovers across the country. He has launched this song on his YouTube channel 'Wanted Prince Music'.

Released on Valentine's Day, this song is for people who are in love. Featuring memorable lines such as “Munde jine vi aa kuware town de; Tusi piche laye jane o; End hi kraye Jane ho; Tusi End hi kraye Jane ho,” the song has gone viral on the new media since its release. Prince, who has been in love with music since his childhood days, said that he has struggled a lot to pursue his career.

Due to the circumstances of his family, he faced many difficulties to fulfill his musical dream. He started working for a living at the young age of 11 years and earned Rs 100 as his first income which he received after distributing newspapers door to door for a whole month. Prince Kumar did many concerts and stage shows. Ultimately he launched his debut album 'Wanted Prince' which received rave reviews from audiences and garnered millions of views and likes in India and around the world. The song helped Prince establish his brand as 'Wanted Prince' in the industry.

He did singing-acting as well as rap in it. Later, he launched other super hit songs such as 'Cruise Missile' and 'Cakewalk' which were well received by the public with millions of views and likes. The cinematography of these songs also earned a lot of praise. In fact, all the songs of Prince Kumar have touched millions of hearts with their melodious lyrics and soulful voice. Similarly, his new song 'End' has also created a special place among music lovers.
