

RLH Construction Offering Custom Home Renovation Solutions as a Team of Kitchen and Bath Remodeling Contractors

Grover Beach, California Mar 12, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - A general contractor San Luis Obispo, RLH Construction has emerged as a trusted name when it comes to kitchen and bathroom remodeling in the region.

Renovating any part of the house that families live in can be a complex task. And it becomes more overwhelming if the rooms to be renovated are (or include) the kitchen and bathrooms. Homeowners often look for recommendations from trusted sources for the best kitchen remodeling contractors and bathroom renovation contractors. They also spend time in research to make sure that a contractor they are considering is licensed, has valid insurance, and has been reviewed positively online.

RLH Construction is a licensed company with more than a decade of experience in bathroom and kitchen remodeling San Luis Obispo. They have the skills of balancing the budget with quality and ensure that their clients' home renovation projects involve the best of materials, layout designs, and practical functionalities.

The company has also earned its reputation at completing all undertaken tasks in pre-specified timelines. Besides having its own team for construction, renovation, and remodeling jobs, it has built a huge partner network to facilitate a timely supply of quality materials at the worksite.

As custom home builders Avila Beach, RLH Construction has handled kitchen and bathroom renovation projects in both apartments and detached villas. The team takes special care to discuss all details with its clients before beginning any work and gives them a visual idea of the final look that will develop. Homeowners can also see the difference that their work makes to a room by taking 'before and after' pictures from various angles.

The professionals at RLH Construction also help their clients at getting all necessary approvals for a new construction or remodeling task.

Hiring the services of this team is simple as clients just need to send their details – such as email ID, architect information, the current status of the project, kind of services required, and how will the project be funded – through a secure online form. They can also upload pictures of the room to be renovated. The team reverts in the shortest possible time and can start the work as soon as the clients give a go-ahead signal.

About RLH Construction

Started in 2002 as a framing contractor on the Central Coast, RLH Construction is now amongst the top custom home builders in San Luis Obispo.

Working for more than 28 years as carpenter and framing contractors, the team gained significant trade knowledge of managing all stages of construction. With the growth of their business, they realized that they wanted to be involved in all stages of construction to give homeowners the personalized look and feel they envisioned for their homes.

The economic downturn of 2008 prompted the RLH Construction team to diversify their business and provide services for complete home builds as also kitchen and bathroom remodeling.

Today the team handles myriad aspects of home construction projects and has built strong local connections to ensure that its customers have the best of products and workmanship while getting their homes built or renovated.
