

Yard Venture Launched New Technology: Browser Extension for Every Traveler

Booking the Most Affordable Hotel Has Never Been This Easy

The image shows a screenshot of a hotel booking page for Caesars Palace Hotel & Casino. The page includes tabs for 'Info & prices', 'Amenities', 'House rules', 'The fine print', and 'Guest reviews (5,876)'. The hotel name is 'Caesars Palace Hotel & Casino' with a 4.5-star rating and a 'Great for Two Travelers' badge. The address is '3570 Las Vegas Boulevard South, Las Vegas Strip, Las Vegas, NV 89109, United States of America'. A 'Reserve' button is visible. Below the text are several photos of the hotel's interior and exterior. A RatePunk browser extension is overlaid on the right side of the page, displaying the text 'SAME HOTEL BUT MUCH CHEAPER!' and a list of prices from different booking sites:

Booking Site	Price
Booking.com (taxes excl. +$65)	$99
Agoda (taxes incl.)	$164
Expedia (taxes incl.)	$164
Hotels.com (taxes excl. +$67)	$110

Vilnius, Vilniaus Mar 3, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Yard Venture is a digitally-minded travel tech startup, and we launched a revolutionary browser extension for every traveler.

There are two types of travelers in this world: the organizers and those who would prefer to skip the planning part of a trip. The organizers love arranging a vacation as much as being on it, and the majority hope to get it done quickly and hassle-free.

If you belong to the latter type, we have excellent news for you. Using our considerable experience in tourism, we're ready to shake the travel market up by launching a tool that helps to save while traveling. The newest RatePunk Extension is a super easy-to-use hotel price comparison tool, which is essential to try for anyone who is planning to book a hotel at least once in the future.

Our team has been collecting travel tips & tricks for a while now, and we came up with the idea that is too good to be kept secret. While some booking sites have their extensions, there's nothing similar to RatePunk, which compares the prices of different websites while you search.

“I have been working in the travel industry for more than a decade now. My goal has always been to show people that it’s possible to travel the world without spending a fortune,” said Justin, one of the RatePunk founders, “RatePunk is proof that it can be done effortlessly.”

It’s not about a $5 difference

Statistically, 63% prefer to read reviews, view pictures, and book online, all on the same website. But, of course, this lowers the chances of finding the wanted hotel for a better price.

It might seem that hotel costs for the same dates could not vary much on different websites. Nevertheless, the RatePunk team goes out on a limb and disagrees. Having worked in this field for quite some time, we’ve noticed that prices may differ up to a few thousand dollars (!) occasionally. The reality is that the room price depends on the agreement between the hotel and the Online Travel Agency, which is selling the rooms. Not to mention, OTAs add on their commission which can range between 5-25%. Therefore, the price might vary significantly on different websites.

It means that one hotel room might be selling for a great price on a particular booking site, yet be enormously overpriced on another, and it’s all only because of the contract made between the hotel and the booking site. It sounds a bit unfair, doesn’t it? Well, here’s a way to fix it: RatePunk is ready to compare all the prices on the leading accommodation websites and make sure to find the most affordable one.

How does it work?

Once you choose your wanted travel dates and a particular hotel on one of the top booking sites, RatePunk instantly starts searching for the best rate. The finalized list of prices pops up on your screen in seconds. The lowest-rate option will be at the top of it. Click the cheapest offer and it will lead to the room and the dates you were interested in.

RatePunk is entirely legitimate. There’s no need to worry about the booking sites being not trustworthy since RatePunk only compares the rates of trusted hotel aggregator brands. We currently support 5 booking sites: Booking.com / Agoda / Expedia / Hotels.com / Priceline, and we’re working on adding more shortly.

So why is this a must-have for every traveler?

- Easy to use - scans all the booking websites automatically
- Free to download - saves money without investing any additional expenses
- Modern design - is user friendly and eye-catching

“I feel like RatePunk is what our users and other travelers might have been looking for. It’s nice to have many sites to choose from, but they need to click on each of them to find the best price is time-consuming at the very least,” Justin continues, “once you start using RatePunk, you can’t imagine booking any other way again.”

Using this extension is a leap towards saving time and money while traveling, and it’s steadily becoming the new normal.

Where can it be downloaded?

RatePunk is available on Chrome, Safari, Edge, Opera & Firefox. If the idea of not having to open heaps of tabs when searching for the best hotel price sounds teasing, you can check and download the RatePunk extension here: ratepunk.com

Media Contact

Justin A

justin@ratepunk.com

Source : Yard Venture

See on IssueWire