

A new type of pain management clinic has arrived in Phoenix, Arizona

Mountain View Headache and Spine Institute offers cutting edge solutions to common pain management problems.

Phoenix, Arizona Apr 19, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - A new type of pain management clinic has arrived. Mountain View Headache & Spine Institute opened up its doors in Phoenix, Arizona. Its goal was to provide one-on-one chronic pain management services to Maricopa County residents, including those from the Biltmore, Paradise Valley, and Arcadia areas. The practice's experienced pain management specialist, Ruchir Gupta, MD offers a multimodal approach to treating chronic pain. Where others have failed, Dr. Gupta succeeds in finding just the right type of treatment modality for you.

Dr. Gupta is not just your ordinary pain management doctor. He has a diverse medical background including several publications. He specializes in providing a customized treatment plan for each patient to manage chronic pain conditions like shingles, neck and low back pain, sciatica, and headaches. Dr. Gupta is also skilled in creating a treatment plan that incorporates holistic and alternative therapies with traditional pain management services to achieve effective pain relief.

In addition to medication, Mountain View Headache & Spine Institute offers a variety of pain-relieving therapies, including epidural steroid injections, platelet-rich plasma (PRP) injections, and IV Infusions therapy utilizing non-opioid, non-addictive pain medications. Dr. Gupta also provides comprehensive intravenous (IV) therapies to deliver essential vitamins and nutrients into his patient's bloodstream to boost their immunity and overall wellness.

To accommodate the busy schedules of his patients, Dr. Gupta makes himself available for consultations through in-person visits and a variety of telehealth platforms. Online video conferencing provides access to high-quality medical care from wherever the patient is to ensure they receive the care they deserve.

Schedule a consultation online or by calling Mountain View Headache & Spine Institute today to learn more about the non-surgical pain management solutions available.
