

African-American Family set to Release New Planner “Creating Generational Wealth”

Los Angeles, California Apr 5, 2022 (issuewire.com) - Publicist and Serial Entrepreneur Steven Daniel known as Dr. Airbnb and his family are set to release their own Airbnb Business Planner. The planner is set to release this Summer during a significant time for African-Americans in honor of Juneteenth. And with millions of black entrepreneurs taking the leap of faith to quit their job and start their own businesses due to the pandemic. This planner is in high demand. Steven and his family have provided the exact blueprint needed for anyone to succeed in the Short Term Rental industry better known as Airbnb.

Steven Daniel has been a short-term rental entrepreneur for over a year now. He says “the blessing fell into my lap when I decided to become a flight attendant.” Steven then begged his mother to partner with him in business. And as his accountant, when Steven’s mom saw the success his first property received. Their entire family went into business with the goal to create generational wealth and teach others the same.

The planner “Creating Generational Wealth” is set to release on June 19, 2022, exclusively on their website www.DrAirbnbUniversity.com. The planner includes tax and accounting advice from Lorra Brown, The Tax CEO.

If you would like to receive more information about this planner or set up an interview with mother and son duo Steven Daniel and Lorra Brown. Please contact Steven at 800-861-9145 or email info@menlovepr.com.

Media Contact

Steven Daniel

info@menlovepr.com

Source : Men Love PR

See on IssueWire